Description

Mulilo's Graduate Internship Programme for 2024/2025 is seeking a Graduate Intern in Asset Management. This position is designed to provide practical exposure to asset management within the renewable energy sector.

The internship program offers an opportunity for recent graduates to apply their academic knowledge within a dynamic and innovative company. Participants will engage with various aspects of asset management, contributing to Mulilo's commitment to advancing renewable energy solutions.

Responsibilities

Interns will be expected to:

- Assist in the management and oversight of renewable energy assets.
- Participate in financial analysis and reporting activities.
- Support the development and implementation of asset management strategies.
- Engage in cross-departmental collaboration to achieve operational goals.

Qualifications

Candidates must hold:

- A university degree in Finance, Business Science, or Engineering.
- Demonstrated interest in the renewable energy sector.
- Traits such as diligence, determination, resilience, and agility.

Job Benefits

The internship provides:

- Hands-on experience in the renewable energy industry.
- Opportunities to develop skills in asset management and financial analysis.
- Exposure to a collaborative and forward-thinking work environment.
- Occasional travel opportunities to broaden professional experience.

How To Apply?

Interested candidates should submit their resume and a cover letter highlighting their qualifications and passion for renewable energy. Applications should be sent to Mulilo's Asset Management Department. Mulilo encourages diversity and welcomes applications from all qualified individuals.
